Help me find the drunk driver who did this to my daughter!

TIFFANY before the crash.

By SUSAN HAMILTON

Heartbroken dad Larry Delaney wants to find the drunk driver who left his pretty teenaged daughter a helpless coma victim — and the furious father is asking NEWS readers to help him in his search!

The Simi Valley, Calif., fire fighter believes suspect Anders Leif Grunberg is hiding out after skipping bail on drunk driving charges. Police say the 27-year-old gunrigot slammed into a car driven by Tiffany Delaney, 19, while driving drunk with a suspended license.

"I'm asking NEWS readers to keep an eye out for this guy," said Delaney. "We have to catch him before he hurts anybody else."

Delaney wants NEWS readers to be on the lookout for Grunberg and to contact their local police if they spot him.

"Tell local authorities that is case number AE3163 with the Los Angeles Police Department," he said.

"Don't try to be a citizen's arrest — just help us find him. We'll make sure he answers to a judge.

"He has a drinking problem. He'll end up doing the same thing again if he's not put behind bars."

Tiffany and her sister Sabrina were hit by a pickup truck driven by Grunberg last January, according to police. Sabrina suffered a broken leg and Tiffany was hospitalized with horrific head injuries.

Grunberg was arrested on suspicion of drunken driving and released on $1,500 bail. Police say he had a previous drunk driving conviction and his license was suspended at the time Tiffany was hit.

The suspect failed to appear for his court date in February and has been a fugitive ever since.

Tiffany has been under constant care since the accident and doctors held out little hope she'd ever wake up. But Tiffany's angry dad says he hasn't given up the fight to bring her back — and to bring to justice the man who shattered her life.

"This guy literally took Tiffany's life although she's still alive," he told The NEWS. "It makes me furious.

"People don't take drunk driving seriously enough. It's not an accident — someone causes it to happen. If I ever run across this guy, I'd hate to think what I'd do. I wake up at night and think of choking him.

A furniture store sales promotion went awry when several customers opened a $10,000 "treasure chest" — that was only supposed to be opened by one key holder!

[illegible] customers dropped in the Art Van Furniture store in Butler, Mich., armed with keys they had received in the mail.

The customer whose key opened the treasure chest was supposed to take home $10,000 worth of furniture. But the promotion hit a snag when several customers had keys that opened the lock.

"The lock didn't work," explained Florida-based marketing firm coordinator the promotion. "So names who entered the lock, it opened."

The keys had been mailed out to 15,000 Flint area residents.

But the one key that was supposed to open the lock was sent to a person whose name had been pre-drawn by Meredith's firm. The pre-selected

Hero pooch pulls crippled teen from swimming pool!

PARALYZED teen Teddy Berberian gives a loving kiss to his best friend Kendrick. The pooch wears a harness with pockets for Teddy's school books.

He's my best friend — and my 'legs,' says grateful boy

By DICK DONOVAN

Paralyzed teen Teddy Berberian owes his life to his golden retriever Kendrick who leaped into the water and pulled the boy to safety after his wheelchair rolled into a swimming pool.

"Kendrick jumped into the pool behind our house, grabbed Teddy and got him over to the edge of the pool," recalls Teddy's dad Ted Sr. of Winter Haven, Fla.

"Then, when he knew Teddy was safe, he went back and tried to get the wheelchair out."

The courageous canine is more than a hero, he's a helper to the 14-year-old Teddy, who will never walk. Kendrick is an "assistance" dog trained to pick up things, fetch things Teddy can't reach. Dick fights on or off, his leash in a special backpack and, when necessary, give his master a tow.

Of course, the 7½-year-old golden retriever also manages to give Teddy lots of love and has saved him from serious injury on at least three occasions.

But Kendrick's quick-thinking at the pool cemented the relationship between boy and dog.

"What Kendrick did for me that day convinced me that he'd do anything for me," Teddy said proudly. "And I'd do anything for him. He's my best friend — and my 'legs.'"

Teddy lost the use of his own legs in his first week of life when he underwent high risk surgery to repair a hole in the wall of his heart. The boy survived the operation, but he was left paralyzed from the waist down.

His mom Debbie said Teddy was an entirely different boy before Kendrick came into his life in the spring of 1998.

"Sometimes Teddy simply didn't want to get out of bed and go to school," she explained. "Now he gets going because of Kendrick. They need each other."

To say that Teddy and Kendrick are inseparable would be the understatement of all time. They go everywhere together.

When Teddy is at his desk in room 31 of Jewett Junior High School, Kendrick is right there with him, sprawled quietly beside his master's wheelchair, always alert, always ready to help.

And when classmates come over to greet Kendrick with a gentle pat on his massive head, they ask, "Hey, big boy, how are you doing?" Teddy answers for them both.

"We're doing great," Teddy declares. "We're doing just great!"

WHEN Teddy needs a tow, Kendrick is there to lend a paw. The 2½-

Man plunges 4 stories — into his pal's arms!

Miracle catch cheats death!

By DICK DONOVAN

Heroic university student Chuck Luna saved his best friend's life — by catching him in his arms as he plunged from the balcony of a four-story building!

As 19-year-old Marcos Lucero hurtled toward the pavement, Luna stretched out his arms, braced his legs and snatched his friend from almost certain death.

"If Chuck hadn't done what he did, one of two things would have happened . . . I would have been killed or paralyzed," Lucero said in his home in Greeley, Colo.

"I was coming down pretty much headfirst. Chuck saved my life. I really believe that. He risked his life to save me. How can you ever repay that kind of debt?"

When Lucero's 155-pound body crashed into Luna's outstretched arms, the impact slammed them both to the pavement.

Luna, 19, suffered only aches and pains the next day and Lucero survived with only a few broken bones in his back and some minor cuts and bruises.

"When I saw Chuck falling, I really didn't have any choice but to do what I did," Luna explained. "He's one of the best friends he would have done the same thing for me.

"I just ran under him, reached out my arms and braced my legs," the blond, 19-inch, 160-pound hero remained. "I knew I wouldn't be able to hold on to him . . . he must have been falling at 80 m.p.h. But I knew I could break his fall.

"He slammed into my arms pretty hard and I was knocked down. People started screaming and acting crazy. I yelled for someone to call an ambulance and it got there right away."

Luna said he, Lucero and two other University of North Colorado students had been looking at a fourth-floor penthouse apartment they had hoped to rent for the summer.

When he learned the apartment had already been rented, Luna left, while Lucero and the other two lagged behind.

As Luna was making his way down to the street, Lucero climbed over the penthouse balcony to peer himself to the balcony on the floor below.

"When I got outside, I looked up and saw Marcos hanging by one hand," Luna said. "When he fell, I didn't know what to do. I was scared to death, but I couldn't just stand there and let a friend be killed.

A whopping two-thirds of American industrial workers regularly fall asleep on the job, a shocking new study shows.

And the most likely folks to be found asleep at the switch are workers in the most sensitive industries — electric utility operators, nurses and workers at nuclear plants.

The survey's author, Richard Coleman of the Stanford University School of Medicine, studied 7,400 workers across the country.

Pair could go to jail for shocking baby-making scheme

DESPERATE COUPLE HIRES 15-YR.-OLD BOY TO MAKE WIFE PREGNANT!

DESPERATE Sandra and Walter Meredith weren't able to have a baby on their own and couldn't afford to adopt one — so they hired a teenage boy to have sex with Sandra and make her pregnant

By JACK ALEXANDER

A young married couple wanted a baby so badly the husband allowed a 15-year-old boy to have sex with his willing wife.

The bizarre baby-making deal was hatched soon after the unidentified boy moved in with Sandra and Walter Meredith in their low-income home in Elizabethtown, Ky.

"They longed for a baby but Mr. Meredith was sterile," said their lawyer, Ron Hines. "It costs $5,000 to $15,000 to adopt and they simply didn't have the money." The lonely couple investigated the surrogate father possibility, sperm banks and in vitro fertilization programs.

"They needed $25,000 for the surrogate thing, $5,000 for the in vitro fertilization, but both were way out of their price range," said Hines.

"They couldn't even afford the cost of testing for the sperm bank.

"Desperate people do desperate things," said Hines. "There are thousands of people just like them in this country."

The boy — who was 14 when he moved in with the Meredith family — agreed to let the teenager live with them at the request of the boy's father, said Hines. "The father's new bride had given him an ultimatum — either the boy goes or I go," said Hines.

A few weeks later Meredith asked the boy's help in getting his wife pregnant. "You might say we mutually agreed upon it," said Meredith. "He was more than willing." The boy was to get room and board as pay for his "services."

Between January and April, the boy and Mrs. Meredith had sex "contacts." She kept track of her menstrual cycle and told the youngster the most favorable times for conception.

"I guess they didn't like my methods," the 15-year-old man baby," she said tearfully. "I was willing to do what he wanted because I was wanting to get pregnant."

But instead of getting their beloved baby, the couple is in trouble with the law. Mrs. Meredith didn't become pregnant and the teenage boy began "pepping off" at school that he was "shacking up" with a married woman, said Hines.

The Merediths were arrested on charges of unlawful transaction with a minor and encouraging sexual performance by a minor. They could go to prison for 130 years.

Meredith has been suspended from his job as a hospital nursing assistant. "Ah hate cruel headlines. 'Couple Trade Room and Board for Sex,'" said attorney Hines. "That nearly destroyed them.

"They have been the object of pranks, gossip and ridicule," said Hines. "They've gone through a living hell."

Hines said the Merediths' only crime is that they desperately wanted a baby and were too poor to get one the usual ways.

"People with money in our society can get whatever they want, including babies," said Hines. "Poor people can't."

"It bothers me the way people talk," said Mrs. Meredith. "But I know the real story. They don't."

I bought my hubby-to-be — with my VISA card!

Angela White went to an auction a few months ago — and bought herself a husband-to-be!

The blonde paid a mere $40 for bachelor Shane Holbrook, 28. She says it was the best bargain she's gotten in her life.

"I charged him on my Visa card," said Angela, 28, of St. Mary-of-the-Woods, Ind. "I got a very good deal.

"I liked him right off. We had a lot in common. Now we're planning to marry next year." Angela swears she had no intention of husband-hunting when she attended the bachelor auction to support a local Big Brother-Big Sister organization. In fact, she didn't really want to go at all.

"But I was meeting a friend at the auction so I had to go," Angela recalled. "By the time I got there my friend Debbie had registered me and we were both given numbers to bid with.

"I said I wasn't going to buy a bachelor, but Debbie kept urging me to do it. When Shane came down the runway, she held up my number. I didn't even know she'd done it." Angela heard the auctioneer say, "Going, going — gone for $40." But she had no idea she'd just bought a guy. And she certainly had no idea she'd mapped up the best deal of her life — her future husband.

Holbrook, a legal technician for the Federal Bureau of Prisons, went to Angela's table and chatted with his new "owner." The two hit it off immediately.

They dated for six weeks before they went on their official auction prize date, a trip to Indianapolis for dinner at a fancy restaurant and a carriage ride around the city. Since then, the two sweethearts have been inseparable.

Sticky-fingered judge accused of shoplifting 20 pounds of dog food

A judge who admitted stealing a screwdriver from an Ohio hardware store last year has now been accused of shoplifting 20 pounds of dog food.

Witnesses told police they saw Cleveland Municipal Judge Carl B. Stokes take the dog food, worth $17.25, from a pet store and drive off without paying for it.

Police said charges were being considered.

The judge, a former Cleveland mayor, paid $50 last year after he admitted that he shoplifted a screwdriver.

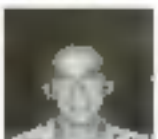
"Ex-Truck Driver Gets $21,106 a Month Doing What You Aren't"

By Neville R. Levin - Special Feature Writer.

Orlando, FL. - "In only 6 months I took in a whopping $126,650 - and I can make any average person and show them exactly how to do it," declares Lawrence Tibak.

Tibak began a few years ago with humble beginnings as a truck driver. But the cash didn't start to roll in until he discovered this little known money making secret.



"It made me into a rich man, against my own will."

Now, on a trial basis, Tibak has begun to train everyday people, just like himself, how to duplicate his new system.

Already the results have been astounding. For example, one person in St. Augustine wrote that they had made $8,500 in an unbelievable 11 days!

"I'm no smarter than you," he states, "only, I have discovered an amazing wealth system."

"Put my program into action," he says, "and you are assured driving your sparkling Mercedes, BMW, or Cadillac. You dazzle your friends with your new dream home. And people bet you collecting like a [illegible]."

"You can really be the kind of person that you always wanted to be."

And what's more," he adds, "to make an extra $10000 my way, requires little effort!"

"Look, there's no magic wand, and proof you've read it does take time and work. But it's newsbreaking, he says," he adds, "I only want people who are willing to put forth some effort to use it."

Now, you may not make as much as Tibak, but if you are a real "Go-Getter," you will make even more. And above all, the nice part is that you will the respect of your friends and family.

Top wrestler 'Jake The Snake' arrested for beating up little guy

CHAMPION wrestler "Jake The Snake" Roberts, top, puts one of his famous holds on Scott Sawyer, a frequent opponent in the ring. But cops in Daytona Beach, Fla., say Roberts went too far when he beat up on a much smaller drinking buddy.

By JACK ALEXANDER

Cops were waiting in the wings as rugged pro wrestler "Jake The Snake" Roberts whipped another opponent — and then they took him and his 8-foot-long snake to jail.

Cops haul him off to jail with his 8-foot boa

The burly 6-foot-6, 240-pound Roberts is accused of slugging a 5-foot-7, 160-pound bar-hopping buddy, John Bartlett, so hard that Bartlett now wears a steel plate in his face.

As Roberts, 41, was being booked, Orlando, Fla., police took care of Damien, Roberts' boa constrictor that crawls over the wrestler's hapless victims in the ring. An hour later, Roberts posted $2,500 bond and left with Damien.

But Roberts' slithering sidekick wasn't with him one night last December at Daytona Beach's Sugar Shack, known for its scantily clad dancers.

Bartlett, 37, said he met Roberts there and they had a few drinks before going to another bar. They were driving along Nova Road about 4 a.m. when the brawny wrestler started complaining about Daytona Beach and its women, Bartlett told cops.

When Bartlett defended the town and its women, he said Roberts got riled up and said, "I might to slap the rar and beat your butt." Then the gigantic grappler did just this, according to Bartlett, who said he was punched in the eye and stomach.

Battered Bartlett did not hang around to duke it out with the powerful wrestler, according to his attorney, Diego Handel.

"Mr. Bartlett wanted to live," said Handel.

Surgeons put a temporary steel plate in Bartlett's face because the bone around his eye was shattered.

"I'm not a movie star, but he really messed up my face," said Bartlett.

Roberts, one of pro wrestling's good guys in the ring, is charged with aggravated battery. Bartlett also has sued him for damages.

Booze can shrink gals' breasts!

Teenage girls who like to guzzle booze can end up shrinking their breasts, says a shocking new report.

"Heavy drinking can shrink the breasts and is also thought to increase the risk of cancer," says an article about girls 12 to 24 in Guiding, the magazine for Girl Guides, a Girl Scout-type group in Britain.

The article also notes that gals get drunker faster than guys on the same amount of alcohol because females have a smaller liver. Additionally, booze is absorbed by a woman's body much faster during ovulation and the premenstrual period, causing higher alcohol concentrations in the blood.

Dr. Bruce Ritson of the Royal College of Physicians in Edinburgh, Scotland, agreed with the report, saying that heavy drinking can decrease hormone levels and shrink the breasts.

Kid starts mom's car with a screwdriver & leads police on a wild 60 m.p.h. chase

A 9-year-old boy started his mom's car with a screwdriver and led police on a five-mile, 60 m.p.h. chase.

The chase began when someone reported seeing a car being driven in a reckless manner through the streets of Baldwin, La., said Police Detective Bobbie Hill.

"I knew it was a child in the car," she said. "You could just see the top of his little head above the dashboard.

"Every time we put on the siren he'd speed up, and if we got too close he'd speed up.

"He got up over 60 m.p.h. several times as we just backed off.

"He knew how to shift, that's for sure. He drove pretty well, too."

Police said the tiny daredevil, who used a screwdriver to start his mother's car, finally was stopped when a motorist blocked the entrance to a highway. The boy skidded into reverse and backed into a pursuing police car.

The boy was charged with several traffic offenses.

Forgiving hubby begs judge . . .

Please don't send my wife to jail — even though she tried to have me killed TWICE!

By JACK ALEXANDER

Heartbroken hubby Brian Smith begged a judge not to send his evil wife to prison — he said it was HIS fault she and her lover twice tried to have him murdered!

"I blame myself for what happened," Smith said tearfully.

"She is the apple of my eye. Please don't lock her away."

But his desperate plea fell on deaf ears as Judge Robert Gatehouse sentenced Smith's cheating wife Lesley, 31, to seven years behind bars.

It was a fearsome, cold-blooded and "calculated plan to have your husband murdered," said the judge in Basildon, England.

As his beautiful, blonde-haired wife was led away, Smith, 41, screamed pitifully, "No . . . I love you Lesley."

Smith, an engineer, blamed himself for his wife's deeds.

"I drove her to it.

"I left her alone for months, working abroad," he said.

The doting hubby sent his wife $800 a month to support her and their three little girls when he was working abroad.

But Lesley became bored with him and began an affair with a roofer, Peter Hillion, 32.

She offered one man she met in a pub $5,000 to kill her bothersome hubby, but that hit man backed out of the deal.

She offered another hit man $11,500 but he was really an undercover cop who had been tipped off.

When he pretended to have beaten Smith to death with a baseball bat, Lesley replied, "Great! Love you millions."

Lesley and her lover Hillion were charged with solicitation to murder and admitted it.

Hillion was sentenced to four years in prison.

"I worship the ground she walks on," said despondent hubby Brian. Hillion has to prison to "punishing the HEARTBROKEN Brian Smith pleaded with a judge to let his scheming, two-timing wife return home to him and their three little girls. The judge refused.

Oh happier days, Brian was all smiles as he married the lovely Lesley.

Volleyball-sized hailstone rips through roof!

A hailstone the size of a volleyball plowed through the roof of shocked homeowner Duane Cline and ripped a foot-long hole in the ceiling and plaster.

"I thought a bunch of shotgun had fallen on the house, that a car had hit them," said Cline, remembering what it sounded like when his house was struck by a car several years ago.

National Weather Service meteorologist Ted Hashmer said the mammoth hailstone was "related to a thunderstorm" that hit the Portland, Oreg., area.

Cline said he will store the ice in his freezer and may have it tested later. He said the hailstone was milky white and smelled faintly of sulphur.

THE SACRED MAGIC

As a youngster, William Alexander Ortiello constantly asked questions about the mysteries of life and the Almighty Power of God. His parents and the family's minister answered his probing questions the best they could, but their answers were lacking until one day when Bible William was touched by the downtown power of the Lord. A beautiful light surrounded him and he was given a divine message that he had been selected to receive and teach the most powerful and secret of THE SACRED MAGIC to all the world at the dawn of the GOLDEN AGE.

THE SACRED MAGIC is the version of the mystic teachings given by the Magi and the Wisemen of Wisdom to Rev. Ortiello. To demonstrate if you have been an CHOSEN to receive this hidden knowledge, answer the following questions positively to yourself:

( ) Do I want peace, joy, love and prosperity to fill my life completely?

( ) Do I desire to know and work with the unseen forces of the universe for physical success in all that I do?

( ) Do I desire to help others overcome their problems through and by the great magical power I gain?

( ) Do I want total control of circumstances which manifest in my life?

( ) Do I possess an overwhelming need to know the answers to the mysteries of life, death, and the workings of the universe, both quickly and easily?

If you can answer "YES" to a majority of these questions then this is obviously the path for you. Here is a true example of what you can expect to learn from Rev. Ortiello's SACRED MAGIC manuscript:

SEVEN GREAT MONEY SECRETS

By magical law the five men are secretly governed by the supremely powerful and extremely wealthy. Yes, there is a magical power to uncover and that power can be controlled. You will discover the seven great secrets of success and good fortune. You will also be provided with two potent money rituals to bring you greater prosperity. ABOUT THE AUTHOR

William Alexander Ortiello is an internationally known teacher of spiritual truths. Since 1935 he has delivered more than 3,000 lectures and is the author of several manuscripts containing higher metaphysical secrets. The author is also an ordained minister and director of the Mystic Light Society located in Philadelphia. Even since childhood when he began having visions, Rev. Ortiello has been in command of God's Universal Energy which can, when applied properly, bring happiness, self-mastery and wealth to anyone. Now with the coming of the much proclaimed NEW AGE, he has been told by the HIGHER MASTERS OF LEARNING to share this valuable information with those who seek it.

Daring thief swipes $400G worth of [redacted] flowers!

RAIDER OF THE LOST ORCHIDS!

By DICK DONOVAN

Like a real-life Indiana Jones turned evil, a scheming smuggler probed the remote corners of the globe to steal its most delicate living treasures — the rarest orchids grown on Earth!

Self-taught botanist Henry Azadehdel was nabbed by British agents who recovered almost $400,000 worth of the world's rarest orchids when they raided his home in Aspley, England.

Some of the 750 orchids found in Azadehdel's home are said to be so rare and endangered that the theft of a single blossom could make that species extinct forever!

All of the stolen orchids, which stayed fresh because they are air plants, were whipped in newspaper for shipment to unscrupulous collectors throughout the world.

"We caught up to him in the nick of time," a Customs agent declared.

"If we had delayed our raid just one day, these orchids would have been shipped on their way to God only knows where.

"That might have been a terrible loss. These flowers are of the most exquisite beauty.

"Can you even imagine holding an orchid worth tens of thousands of dollars? It's truly boggles the mind. I can tell you that."

THE exquisite beauty of Orchids explains why this man have made these peoples with collectors around the world.

The Iranian-born Azadehdel pleaded guilty to four counts of smuggling and selling endangered orchids when he was arraigned in London's famed Old Bailey court.

However the fact only a fine and a mere two years in prison for crimes that shocked and outraged orchid lovers everywhere. The court heard how Azadehdel trekked into the darkest jungles of Asia, Borneo and the Amazon to seek out and steal the rarest orchids known to man.

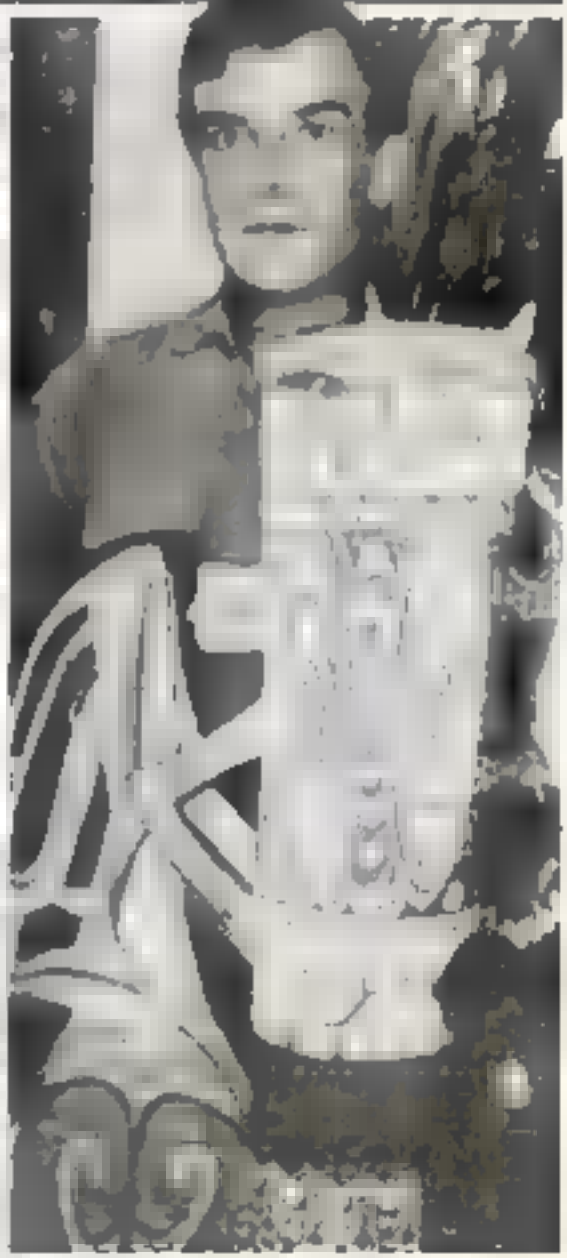
Rare slipper orchids — whose location on the Philippine Island government had tried to keep secret — were among those found in Azadehdel's home.

Though Azadehdel claims he is an amateur botanist, he is a recognized expert who in 1978 discovered an unknown species of slipper orchid in the remote jungles near the Viet Nam-China border.

The orchid was named after him — Paphiopedilum Henry Azadehdel.

But his insatiable lust for money finally brought him to disgrace.

"He raped beauty spots worldwide of some of their most precious assets to feed an obsession with orchids and to future his bank account," Crown Prosecutor Andrew Mitchell declared.



SCHEMING smuggler Henry Azadehdel scoured the globe to steal the rarest orchids known to man. Azadehdel was arrested

Shopping mall pervert used a tiny mirror to peek up women's skirts!

Sneaky Stevan Stasiuk went shopping at a mall with a small mirror clutched in his hand — so he could peek up women's skirts.

By JACK ALEXANDER

Stasiuk's style was to bend over as if looking for items on a low shelf. While bent over, he would whip out the mirror and look up the dress of a woman standing beside him.

Crown Attorney Bill Sumner told a court in Winnipeg, Canada, Stasiuk tried his sneaky trick several times at the Polo Park Shopping Centre in Winnipeg.

"He was caught in the act a couple of times by a store security camera," said Sumner.

Stasiuk, 32, who was raising friends for the weekend couldn't explain his kooky actions.

Stasiuk was extradited by his family and friends when he later returned to his home in Saskatchewan, his lawyer told the court.

Judge Arnold Cannet sentenced Stasiuk to a year's probation after he pleaded guilty to committing an indecent act.

DI CURED ME, SAYS COMA GAL

Fairy-tale Princess Di can heal the sick and even pulled a close pal out of a coma, claims a world-renowned doctor.

"She seems to have extraordinary healing powers," said Dr. Peter Gautier-Smith of London's famed National Hospital for Nervous Diseases.

"You could almost compare it to the laying on of hands. Everyone here has been totally astounded by some of the things she's been able to accomplish."

Dr's astounding ability to heal the sick is revealed by her close buddy Chloe Fowler, who was in a death coma and given only a 2 percent chance of pulling through after she was kicked in the head by a horse.

"My doctors hadn't thought I'd pull through," she says. "But the Princess' visits helped emotionally . . . when I was still totally unconscious.

"Later she visited me twice when I'd been transferred to London."

Di secretly visited her stricken friend at the hospital, sat at her bedside and called her back to life from her coma.

"She has a miraculous effect on people," says Dr. Peter. "The uplift which the Princess gave did more good than any doctor." — London News of the World

BLACK WIDOW SHOCKER!

I married 7 rich men — & murdered all of them for their money!

CHRISTINE Genestar admitted killing her seven husbands for their fortunes and more than her received over 100 years of marriage

By STU TRAMER

A 37-year-old temptress married seven wealthy men and murdered them all — so she could spend their fortunes on gold and jewels!

Christine Genestar didn't deny the murders after police found the remains of her husbands in a series of shallow graves beyond her home in Bordeaux, France.

Schoolgirl kicked out of class for having a 42-in. bust!

JULIETTE Gaskell was math teacher couldn't handle her figure!

By JOE DERBIE

Top-heavy teenager Juliette Gaskell got the heave-ho from her high school — because her 42-inch bust turned her meek little math teacher to mush!

"This guy was supposed to be good with figures, but he sure couldn't deal with mine," jiggling Juliette, 16, told reporters in Skelmersdale, England.

"I never wore low-cut clothes or flaunted myself in front of him, but every time I got near him he got the shakes.

"He'd get so flustered he'd start to stammer and couldn't keep his mind on business."

The trembling teacher gave gorgeous Juliette the boot the day she went to his desk to discuss her work and accidentally brushed her ample attributes against his balding head. "I wasn't even aware that anything was wrong at the time," the hip-hugging brunette recalled.

"But later that day they called me into the office and told me I'd put my bust on the head and he couldn't take it anymore.

"I denied I'd done anything like that, but the headmaster told me they were suspending me from school for six weeks.

"Needless to say, I was very upset."

Now though, cheeky Juliette has decided to skip school for good and take her fabulous physique to London, where she hopes to make it big as a fashion model.

"I've always dreamed of modelling, and maybe this is the push I need to get started," said the ambitious belle.

And proud mom Julia, 38, is behind her dazzling daughter all the way.

"I'm sure Juliette's got what it takes to make the big time," she said.

"Nature's been nice to her. That's for certain."

Pet pigs gobble up wedding cake!

By LAUREL BOWIE

Excited Edna Powell spent all day baking a colossal cake for her daughter's wedding — then watched in horror as two hungry hogs gobbled up the whole thing!

Pesky porkers Andy and Alison sneaked into the house through an open door and wolfed down the scrumptious, 8-foot-tall cake — cardboard plate and all.

"The cake was sitting on a platform on the floor, and when those pigs spotted it they attacked it before I had a chance to move," the miffed mom told reporters in Perth, Australia.

"And now they had their snouts in it, there was no use trying to save it, so I just let them eat it."

"It was the night before my daughter's wedding, and her beautiful cake just vanished before my eyes."

After downing the four-tiered treat, the overstuffed whiskers waddled back to their pen in Edna's garden to sleep off the sweet feast.

"They wanted to have those hogs out and turn them into bacon," joked bride Anne-Marie, 21, who showed up just in time to watch the delighted swine polish off the last crumbs of cake.

"I couldn't have blamed her if she'd have shot the greedy little things right there on the spot.

"I thought my wedding was ruined."

But Edna and Anne-Marie hopped to it and whipped up another beaut in time for the next day's reception.

The bride and her hunky fiancé Darrell got hitched and got out on their honeymoon — while Andy and Alison went back to stuffing it

Outrage over sicko who mutilated boy!

Bill Alexander Earl Shriner, 38.

By JACK ALEXANDER

Sympathy and outrage has swept America since a sadistic sicko sexually mutilated a helpless 7-year-old boy — and left him for dead.

More than $300,000 has come from across the U.S. for the boy's hospital bills and for reconstructive surgery when he's a few years older.

But no amount of money can soften the anger and hate aimed at the man who brutally raped and stabbed the innocent youngster.

The boy was dragged from his bike and attacked in a woods in Tacoma, Wash. "He would have bled to death or died of shock if a passerby hadn't found him," said Police Sgt. Jim Moore.

Arrested in connection with the brutal assault was Earl Shriner, 38, who has a long history of sexual violence, and spent time in a juvenile detention center in 1966 for molesting rape and "If he's convicted in this Road-running bird drag races traffic!

'It passed me like I was standing still — & I was doing 50,' says gal

By JOE BERGER

Bewildered motorist Suzanne Turner got the shock of her life when she glanced out her car window and found herself in a 50 m.p.h. drag race — with a speeding emu!

Startled Suzanne did a double take as the flightfeathered bird pushed past her on the highway like she was standing still.

Soldiers, cops were spread-eagled and screaming up and down the highway as other motorists slowed to gape with the speedy legged creature from the Australian outback.

Nobody could believe what they were seeing. Trucker Harold Sipple, 26, told reporters in Scottsdale, Pa., that the emu could only run on wildlife movies — or in real dreams.

"That gaudy bird zipped right through my window with his head. If he'd seen me, he was challenging me to a race. Then he just darted off past, leaving me in the dust. They say those things can run more than 100 m.p.h. — and now I believe it."

The astonished airline stewardess and her fellow motorists didn't know it, but the elusive emu had escaped from a farm where it was kept as a pet.

"I didn't have a clue what was going on," Suzanne recalled. "I'd just gotten off a long flight, and when I saw that thing I thought I'd gone batty from exhaustion!"

The bizarre road battle ended up in a roadside picnic area and total panic. "You're not going to believe this, but I've just seen this huge bird running along the highway."

Mom and daughter are jailed because they killed a rapist!

In a bizarre ruling, a mother and daughter were sent to the slammer for killing the rapist who attacked them.

Amazingly, the judge decided that the women from West Berlin, Germany, had gone too far in their battle with their 26-year-old attacker Hemen Tulgin of Famagusta, Cyprus — killed him. The courts decision

The court determined that the fight began when the 26-year-Tulga was in position and with the mom and her 16-year-old

Our little girl is getting physical with her gym teacher

Send letters to Dear Dotti, Weekly World News, 600 E. East Grand Ave., Des Moines, Iowa 50312

Dear Dotti: My husband and I have been good parents to our three children, but now we're having a problem that we can't deal with.

Our 15-year-old daughter is having her 48-year-old gym teacher.

She stays after school and has dinner with him and admits that they are having sex.

When her father said that she should stop seeing him, she became very angry and spit on his face.

We don't do anything to please her and she appeals to us all the time. I pay cash to it, but it's devastating her father to see that his favorite little girl must now hide from him that she hates him.

We have been more than patient with her. I've even considered spanking her, but she says she'll tell the police that we're abusing her. I don't know what to do. Can you help me? — Worried Mom in Milwaukee

Dear Worried Mom: What a couple of spineless wimps you and your hubby must be. Call the cops and get that gym teacher behind bars where he belongs. Then take your sister and behind the first chair and tan her hide.

My guy's boyfriend sticks like a leech

Dear Dotti: I've been living with my boyfriend for about a year but now all of a sudden, he's spending most of his time with his boyfriend.

They go bowling and to the movies and spend the rest of their time together watching television and drinking beer.

When we do go out, his boyfriend tags along. This is making me very unhappy and is also embarrassing, as my friends and friends are making wisecracks.

I'm desperate. What should I do? — Desperate in Sioux Falls, S. Dakota

Dear Desperate: Tell your boyfriend's boyfriend to get lost and if your boyfriend objects, give him the boot, too.

Daughter-in-law won't let son visit

Dear Dotti: I'm 58 years old and have never considered writing to an advice column, but I like your answers and believe that you'll give me some straight talk.

My problem is my son's wife. She has nothing to do with her own family and doesn't want me or anyone close with us. We have a home on the lake and a farm nearby and we always liked to spend time fishing and hunting, but now she won't allow him to visit either place.

We're told to make her feel at home with us, but all she likes to do is drink beer and she never cooks a meal. Even baked cakes and anything else that we provide for them she will let us take them to their trailer because she said if we get the bill.

I've told the son that he needs to put his foot down and do some of the things that he wants to, but he's afraid of what she may do if he goes against her wishes.

What do you think about this situation? — Tired of Living in Texas

Dear Tired: Instead of telling it, I think you should write your mother, and the open message and let your wife read it for your marriage.

I'm crazy about a married father

Dear Dotti: I'm in love. I'm in love, I'm in love with a married man.

I was [illegible] a few months ago and he took me happy home by storm. He's the handsomest, happiest, kindest, most marvelous person in the whole wide world.

Our lovemaking is great. The tender moments we share in front of the TV are great and even my dreams about him are great.

But Dotti, Dotti! My whole world revolves around this sensational guy and I'm so happy I could burst.

There is only one tiny, teensy, weensy little problem. My darling Dotti is already married and has two kids. He says he'll tell him to leave his wife and family so I can reign him in his millions and secret love nest.

Please hurry and answer me. I have so much to tell you while my darling Dotti has the world in golden chains. — Giddy over it in Stockton

Dear Giddy: I suppose I should slaughter you for being a [illegible] home wrecker, but I'm a sucker for a happy ending. So I'll just say you're a dope and let it go at that.

Ex-wife is messing up our romance

Dear Dotti: It's been three years since I started seeing my boyfriend. At first he didn't see other women, but since I moved in he started seeing his ex-wife.

I moved out again, but he persuaded me to come back to him and now no matter what I do or say, he will not stop seeing her.

I really love him and we have a little boy. He says he sees her to be nice to the two boys he has by her, but he is supposed to see his boys every two weeks — not every other night. What can I do? — Angry in Athens, Ga.

Dear Angry: Tell him you're dead as dirt and you've no longer got up with him spending around with his ex-wife. If that doesn't work, forget him.

Confidential

Dear Dotti: Pushed in Pennsylvania: Tell how you're mad and getting into bed you've been under on what he said.

Dear Husband in Wisconsin: Hire your body and your dog sick. Believe it does sound very painful to put down.

Dear A.P. in Maine: I agree — you're a worker.

Dumb car thieves fix up woman's stolen auto — better than before!

Emma Forsythe's car was stolen but the middle-aged victim got it back — all fixed up with a new paint job, mysterious objects, tinted windows and a booming stereo in the trunk!

By SUSAN JIMISON

Right after stocked Mrs. Emma Forsythe's car was stolen from her driveway in Miami, Fla., she figured she'd never see it again.

But the middle-aged victim got a big surprise when she found the car parked in front of her house. It's probably worth $3,000 more now than when it was stolen.

The thief or thieves even fixed up the car, painting it pearl white and the rims are shined. The interior is worth at least $400 and the radio is worth another $400. I guess the thief didn't take the time to buy a car, but he sure had the manners to fix one up.

Mrs. Forsythe's car disappeared from in front of her apartment apartment on Miami Beach. Police said the thief broke into the car, hot-wired it and drove off.

Then, in a stroke of good fortune, cops arrested a thief driving another stolen car and the suspect led them to his friend who was driving Mrs. Forsythe's Cutlass.

When she got it back, she said, "My God, I can't get that in front of my house!" Police Lt. Jack DeBellis said. She didn't think it fit her image.

But it looks terrific. She's got a real nice stereo now — it's an inland blaster.

Police have arrested Carlos Cuppie, 18, and charged him with two counts of grand theft auto, two counts of altering vehicle identification numbers, and one count of dealing in stolen property.

Mrs. Forsythe's hot custom and low-rider is now being offered for sale by a Miami used car dealer.

Teacher taped girl's mouth shut, claims suit

A teacher and her aide taped a retarded child's mouth shut to keep her room "running like a hot" during class.

That is the claim of a shocking federal lawsuit filed by Lana Dalman on behalf of her 9-year-old daughter Katrina in Pasadena, Texas.

The suit alleges that Katrina Dalman suffers from autistic behavior, a disorder characterized by an inability to communicate. The girl is also mildly retarded and has a sunny disposition.

The suit says that on January 31 a teacher and three aides at Dogwood Elementary School taped the little girl's mouth shut "to keep her from making a disturbance."

The tape allegedly restricted her breathing and caused her to become hysterical.

Leaders of the school have had no comment on the allegations in the suit.

ABORTION SHOCKER!

A doctor is facing up to seven years in prison because he didn't try to keep a baby alive when it survived for 30 minutes after an abortion.

Dr. Joseph Mahlich, a 66-year-old obstetrician, was convicted in Philadelphia of infanticide and child cruelty. He is 7 years behind bars after sentencing.

The case stems from a 1984 abortion Dr. Mahlich performed on a 13-year-old girl. Witnesses said Dr. Mahlich made no effort to keep the girl's baby alive even though it survived on its own for 30 minutes.

State authorities originally charged the doctor with murder, but the charge was later dismissed on grounds of insufficient legal evidence.

Dr. Mahlich was originally charged under the state's abortion law, which requires doctors to make every effort to save a living fetus.

On April 28, a touching account of his search for a wife was pub- lished in The NEWS.

Not long afterwards Weston met Lucy, who worked next door to the building where he runs a small non- profit agency.

From the first, he was utterly smitten.

"I met Lucy and I thought she was very pretty," he recalled. "You oh react to people physically when you first see them, but I also thought she was a nice person to speak to.

"I wanted to go out with her, but I'm not pushy — I thought the cir- cumstances had to be right rather than forcing anything."

Finally, Weston invited Lucy and a friend to go out for drinks. They hit it off immediately and began dating steadily. After a few months Weston introduced his girlfriend to his family — and Lucy took her sweetheart home to meet Mom and Dad.

Several days ago the happy cou- ple announced their engagement.

"Obviously we're still learning a lot about each other," Weston said. "But I'm content. You know when people are special, when they're right.

"Maybe when I've got 2.3 kids, a dog, a cat, a goldfish and whatever it takes to be Mr. Joe Average, I'll be happier than I am at this mo- ment — but I doubt it.

"I've got a nice little house, a beautiful girl. I'm very content to- day and it is a surprise to me to feel content."

CHANNEL YOUR OWN HIDDEN POWERS!

Dear Friend:

You've probably heard a famous science fighting about the mystical process known as "channeling". Or maybe you've read or heard the words of such enlightened entities as Seth, Lazaris, and Ramtha who speak from the hidden realms said to exist all around us. In fact, channeling sessions have been taken place on prime time television, and more — people pay — even exceed the cost of the Dolly Parton and Tarot Cards as a tool for psychic enhancement and spiritual growth.

As an investigator of the paranormal and author of over 100 metaphysical books, I am prepared to share you personally how to go about relaxing your data consciousness to allow "higher intelligence" to come through, thus enabling you to communicate with space beings who can assist you in obtaining all you desire on this the physical plane of life, plus protect you from all negativity and harm.

Over the years, I have come to accept as fact the idea that the universe is literally teeming with life which, because of our limited five senses, most of us are unable to see or communicate with. Yet, I can guarantee that by the time you have finished reading AQUARIAN REVELATIONS: CHANNELING HIGHER INTELLIGENCE, you will have set up harmonic convergence with the cosmos more so than ever before. There are, I've discovered, three basic types of beings that we may actually call upon in times of personal need.

HELP FROM THE ANGELIC KINGDOM

In Genesis the Lord created the angelic kingdom to watch over humankind. In the Bible, angels guided to safety those lost in the wilderness, freed the persecuted from fiery furnaces and dank prisons. Jesus Himself was led by angels, delivered by angels, strengthened by angels. We are repeatedly told that angels are joyful beings, that they are God's personal messengers, and our just guardians. And while most of us take for granted that angels were associated with the prophets, the saints, as well as early members of the Christian faith, few realize that the angelic kingdom is still very much active today and that these beings of pure light and love are at our beck and call whenever we need them the most.

MEETING YOUR SPIRIT GUIDE

Likewise, there exist other multidimensional beings who live — and frequently have — materialized in old humans during periods of stress or in moments of receptivity to unlimited teachings.

These beings are also on the level of personal spirit guides, mental teachers, or loved ones who have passed on. Frequently, they appear in our dreams or in visions. Such concerned entities must often have our best welfare at heart, and upon being spoken to can direct our lives in a most positive manner. They have been known to show the way to buried treasures, missing wills, or other items of importance. They have even whispered the winning lottery numbers into the ears of deserving souls and saved many lightbulbs from what should have been certain death or injury.

LOVE, PEACE & BROTHERHOOD FROM BEYOND THE STARS

In the late 1940's, strange objects which defied science, and which became known as UFOs or flying saucers, were first seen by thousands around the world. Today, the reality of alien visitors is widely accepted, some going so far as to claim repeated physical and telepathic contact with these advanced creatures from outside our earthly reality. Similar cosmic guides and spirit teachers exist to offer assistance in everyday matters, even direct beings known to be specially sent by their leaders on a given mission for extraordinary purposes.

Aboard of other [redacted], and there are those who say that advanced spiritual beings — termed the Space Brothers — are watching over our planet as we continue to walk the narrow path to global destruction. Offering multifaceted a way of salvation, these highly evolved souls bring glad tidings for lost little souls, and, in general, bring many tales that those of these who have had close encounters with them.

A HOW-TO METAPHYSICAL COURSE THAT ACTUALLY WORKS!

During my years of personal involvement with metaphysics, I've learned many things which have changed my life, and which I can now make you with. I will teach you how to relax with your "inner Ear" to advise that our living guardian angels, spirit guides and space brother friends are so willing to give.

I will actually open you up so that you will become more "in tune," more "receptive," more "sensitive" to personal and Godly influences. I will show you how to become your own "Channel" so that you can be a radio receiver for divine inspiration and speak directly to your "Higher Self" the Edgar Cayce and so many other great excellent ones Always have done.

I will lay before you in simple words and terms the proper methods, meditations, chants and prayers that will elevate your mind.

I will teach you how to...

- Use all dark.
- Direct upon the energy of others in a beneficial way.
- Turn negativity into a positive force.
- Develop sensitivity to all living things so they of the earth or above it.
- Train to become a master of the universal or cosmic consciousness.
- Maintain spiritual peace every you have attained it.
- Use your dreams for positive ending.
- Grow in harmony with the great spiritual (love) Mother.
- Journey to unseen worlds beyond space and time.
- Work in the light of eternal brotherhood.

Previously, I have taught these many short cuts to personal growth and spiritual development groups across the country, charging as much as $300 for a weekend seminar. Now, however, I feel it is important to communicate my inner most feelings directly with as many sincere individuals as possible as we rapidly approach a New Age of discovery on this planet. Thus, I hope you will join with me as I share these important secrets in an easy to follow, step-by-step manner, in what I believe is going to be my most important book published to date. Reading AQUARIAN REVELATIONS: CHANNELING HIGHER INTELLIGENCE may just be the thing to expand your horizons.

Yours in Love & Light,

NO GUT, NO GLORY

Sumo school force-feeds boys to make them fatso wrestlers!

By JOE HIGGIN

At the world's weirdest sports school, blubbery boys are battered like punching bags and force-fed like Christmas geese — to mold them into lumbering, lard-bellied fighting machines!

This prep school for porkers is the Kokugikan training stable in Tokyo, Japan, where tubby teens are turned into grunting, overstuffed sumo wrestlers.

It's a flab factory where a student's proudest moment comes the first time he looks down at his feet and can't see them — because his bulging belly blocks the view.

There, the sign on the locker room wall should read: "No gut, no glory."

"These kids spend five hours a day being pummeled and pounded till they can barely move," said British journalist Philip Lynn, who spent two weeks with the would-be warriors.

"The rest of the day they sit around eating every fattening thing they can get their hands on and washing it down with gallons of beer.

"If they don't eat, the trainers come in and shovel it down them. Those who refuse to gobble food like human garbage disposals are tossed out on their ear."

Only one paunchy apprentice in 300 completes the fat-building training.

The rest waddle on home to anemia whipped by the heat of the toughest battlers enjoy the admiration of men and the adulation of Japan's most glamorous women — as well as pulling down millions of dollars a year.

Those who advance up and the ever and ever of pounds-pounding ring wars have ways to keep up their appetites. Dave vocal top heroes are eagerly welcomed into high paying advertising and TV jobs.

Most, to be sure, have little to offer future employers other than the reputations they earned in the ring. Some wrestlers, says famed sumo doctor and actor Tokyoka Saito, "are pushed by their with having one of those gentle-to-loved grapplers on the payroll keeps bosses battling for their services.

And that provides plenty of incentive for the flabby lads at the Kokugikan college of cheesecake to keep their noses buried in mounds of rice and great guts. "Their boys are fighting the battle of the bulge in reverse," says reporter Lynn.

"They have to get fat if they're ever going to be rich and famous.

"For them, this paunch is their pot of gold."

Girls who smoke cigarettes are twice as likely to get AIDS!

A shocking new study found that girls who smoke were twice as likely to get AIDS.

The study of more than 4,000 women was run by researchers at Baltimore's Johns Hopkins University.

Dr. Neal Halsey would not say definitively that the study showed a link between smoking and AIDS or that smoking caused some biological change in the body that made it more likely to get AIDS.

Another explanation, he said, could be that the women

Girl kills herself after blowing her school money on makeup

An 11-year-old girl burned herself to death after reprimanding her school boys on makeup and supply.

Police in Bridgeport, Pinkie, doused herself with paraffin and lit a match. Her brother said she'd spent a full term's fees, the equivalent of about $140,

Repair shop drums up business by popping car tires, say cops

The manager of the only tire repair shop in Mount Hope, W. Va., allegedly tried to drum up business — by arranging to have the tires on 14 cars popped!

Dennis Elkins, 28, of the Fayette Tire Shop was charged with 14 counts of conspiracy to destroy property after the tires on 14 cars and trucks were punctured in a single parking lot in the town of 1,900. Mount Hope police said. "Everyone was pretty well mad," said Greg Ayers, who had four tires punctured — two on his car and two on his van.

"It was quite a sight to look down the parking lot and see all the cars sitting on a slant. Most everybody went down to Elkins's shop. It was the closest place around."

Prison guard hangs boy's teddy bear!

A heartless guard put an end to a prank when he played a cruel practical joke on a 13-year-old boy on a juvenile parole center — by hanging the teddy bear.

Armand Dorman was suspended from his job at the Maine Youth Center in South Portland and later resigned.

The youngster, Scott Lemon, had been confined to the center after pleading guilty to setting a fire that killed his baby-sitter, Raymond Lamson, 69.

"It was a sick thing to do. I don't consider it a practical joke by any stretch of the imagination," said Mrs. A.L. Carlisle, associate commissioner of the state Department of Corrections.

The boy is awaiting punishment for setting the fatal fire in Lamson's Biddeford apartment. Lamson burned to death.

They All Laughed When I Said I Was Going To Start My Own Business

My wife and I didn't know what I was doing ... my friends were skeptical ... and my neighbors thought I was wasting my time.

But I kept plugging away at night after my regular job at the factory ... I learned the ropes gradually ... in the meantime, I continued to work at the factory ... I simply dreaded the idea of spending the rest of my life working for someone else ... as a job I really didn't like.

So I quit the factory with confidence and started working on my spare time. Right from the start ... I knew Mail Order ... because I knew we could begin without expensive outlays of cash.

As you'll see below, I wasn't wrong before I realized I'd made the right choice.

Cash by Mail

My initial investment was under $50 ... in less than three years ... I found my profit was taking me up to $10,000 a DAY ... MORE THAN $10,000 A YEAR!

The secret plan ... the one that has helped me so far ... as well as I had hoped ... is a CARD-BOARD BOX ... it pays everything in the beginning.

By the time my wife had already forgotten her original doubts about Mail Order and was telling everyone she knew I was right all along ... I'd have a party for those skeptical friends and neighbors ... at my own home ... the rest with the big profits in the bank.

But this was only the beginning. I began to fall in love with more and more mail order items ... I was everything ... from gifts to paper. And ... before I knew it ... I'd become a millionaire and ... expected that sooner or later.

Then I began publishing articles about Mail Order ... and I have a monthly magazine ... called ... and finally ... I created Mail Order Associates, Inc.

Yes, Mail Order is certainly a fabulous business! Cross up with a ... but how does one start ... and What?

It strikes like a bolt of lightning!

Suddenly you are thinking with cash rolling down all over the country ... MUCH MONEY than you could ever make in a lifetime!

Like the Vermont doctor who has sent out Sports Afield Magazine. His ad pulled 23,000 orders ... over A HALF MILLION DOLLARS IN CASH!

There is no other business where you can make a fortune so quickly!

A beginner from Newark, N.J. sent his first small ad in Home Beautiful ... offering an item ... which cost Bargain Week ... reported that his ad brought in $4,000 in orders. By the end of his first year in Mail Order, he had grossed over $100,000!

Jealous hubby whacks off wife's ear — with an axe

A man who suspected his wife was having an affair cut off her ear with an axe and hounded her with a hot iron!

Canadian authorities said Pauline Best was asleep on the living room sofa in the couple's Toronto home when her husband, Merryn, flew into a jealous rage and attacked her with an axe and a hot iron.

Mrs. Best, 46, underwent surgery to reattach her ear and was treated for burns on her face, hands and thighs.

Best, 56, pleaded guilty to charges of aggravated assault and assault with a weapon and is currently awaiting sentencing.

Missing mutt

A notice posted on a San Diego, Calif., shopping center bore this message:

"LOST DOG. Three legs, one eye, recently castrated. Answers to 'Lucky.'"

Police dog gets mixed up — and bites good guy

A snarling police dog got rattled rounding up a crook — and bit a cop.

The flustered pooch sunk his fangs into the groin of Canadian Constable Doug McMillan, 45, who was hospitalized in good condition after losing a lot of blood.

"This was a case in which the dog couldn't tell the good guys from the bad guys," said London, Ontario, Police Inspector Jim Balmain.

McMillan was investigating a break-in at the Calloway Community Centre about 1 a.m.

He sent the dog in to flush out the burglar.

The dog chased the suspect out of the building and into the arms of McMillan, who wrestled the man to the ground.

During the heat of the battle the dog became confused and bit McMillan. But the suspect didn't escape unscathed. The dog bit him, too.

Medics take one crash victim — but miss second

An ambulance raced at 60 mph and almost took the driver to the hospital — but overlooked the body of a passenger.

The dead body of Gina Griffin, 18, was discovered 18 hours later by her husband, Dan, who went looking for her when she didn't return home.

Gina was in a car driven by Teresa Barnes, 20, that went off the road near the airport in Portland, Ore. She was thrown 150 feet from the scene.

Police didn't know to look for Gina because Miss Barnes didn't tell them there was someone in the car with her.

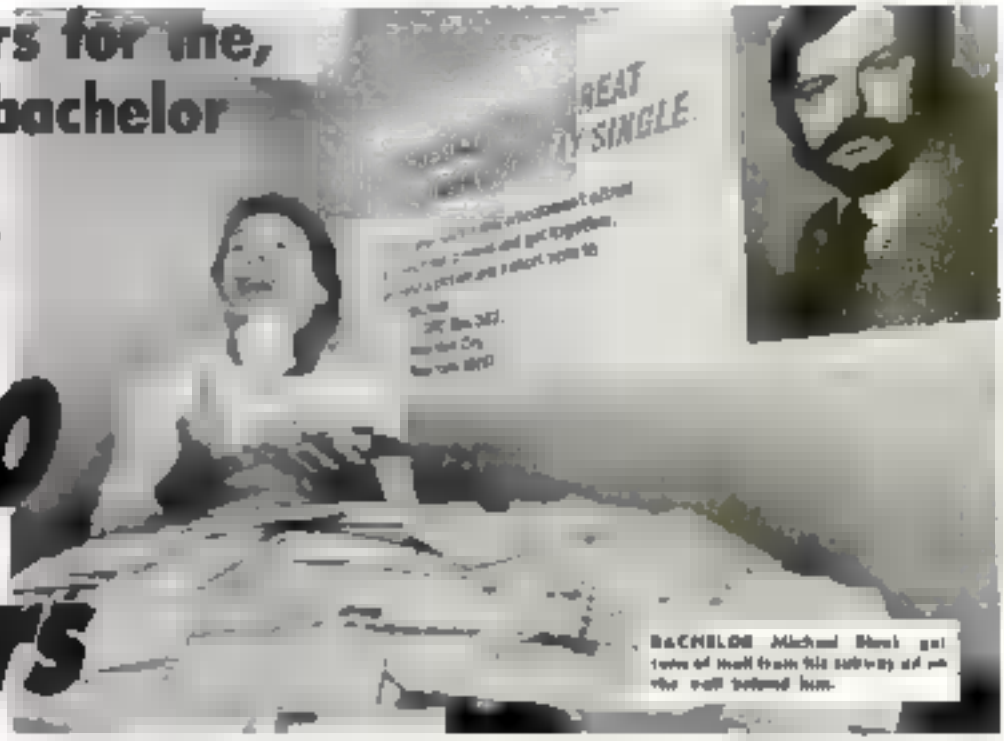
No singles bars for me, vowed lonely bachelor

He got 20,000 answers to his 'wife-wanted' ad



BACHELOR Michael Bloch got tons of mail from his subway ad on the wall behind him.

. . . but he found the gal of his dreams — in a singles bar

Michael Bloch, who spent $4,300 in subway ads for a wife — and got 20,000 replies — has found the girl of his dreams at last!

But he found her in the last place on earth he thought to look — a singles bar!

Michael, the original lonely guy who found fleeting fame in the summer of 1977 when he launched a New York City subway station advertising campaign for a mate, will wed Nomi Wise, a dark-haired beauty he met on a blind date in a singles bar.

Ironically, the 40-year-old New York investment counselor had to break out of his own knotted rules to meet Nomi — one, no blind dates, and two, no dates in singles bars.

He adopted those rules in 1977 when he plastered eight Manhattan subway stations with posters he hoped would entice an eligible, well-bred, outstanding young lady that he was the shining knight she was looking for.

Every day for several weeks, Michael's bearded face glared out at tens of thousands of commuters.

And at the poster he held, block letters were printed "Singles bars are great if you want to stay single. I don't."

Michael signed it with his first name only, gave a postal box number and invited women who felt the same way he did to write and send along a photo.

20,000 letters later, Michael was one very famous fellow — but still single! He read every letter, but as he put it, "There were so many fantastic females I couldn't possibly pick."

Then last August a pal asked him to tag along on a singles hot date he had with Nomi Wise, a lovely lady who knew nothing about Michael's subway ad campaign to find a wife.

In agreeing to meet Nomi in the bar, Michael realized he would be breaking his rules against blind dates and singles bars.

But that evening changed Michael's life — and ended his long search for the girl of his dreams.

The two hit it off in a big way and they started dating. It wasn't long before Michael was convinced that Nomi was the girl for him.

Last April, Michael made sure his Lonely Guy days were behind him by popping the question. At a Passover Seder at her parents' home in Philadelphia, he turned to Nomi's father and made his intentions known. "With your permission, Herb, I'd like to ask you for your daughter's hand in marriage."

"Welcome to the family, Michael," was the happy father's reply.

There wasn't time to arrange a June wedding, so Michael and Nomi will tie the knot in the fall.

"We've come to this it's as if we've been engaged for years," Michael said. "We've been through so much together, and we've been so close, that it's like we've been married for years."

Bell saves biscuits & foils robbery

A would-be robber barked his last and carried off a tart-tread restaurant when the biscuit timer went off, leading the crook to think that somebody had sounded an alarm!

Police said the lone gunman walked into Mrs. Winnie's Chicken & Biscuits in Birmingham, Ala., and demanded money from a cash box.

During the conversation that followed the biscuit timer went off, convincing the a hasty exit was due.

According to restaurant employees, the gunman panicked and ran out of the restaurant empty-handed.

Mangled body of teenage boater floats to the surface — during memorial service!

By JACK ALEXANDER

A crowd of heartbroken teens screamed in horror during a waterfront memorial service for a popular pal missing in a boat collision — when his mangled body popped to the surface.

Some of the stunned mourners rushed to the shoreline and tossed flowers at the floating body of boyish student Todd Kuhn, 18. Others turned away, weeping.

"Todd, Todd, Oh, no. We love you," exclaimed one hysterical teenager.

Kuhn was one of four youths killed in the collision two days earlier at Indian Rocks Beach, Fla. Others victims were Ann Christman, 17, Grant Nash, 18, and Rusty Weeks, 19. The 60 grieving teens had gathered to pay tribute to Kuhn, thinking his body had been found the previous day as reported by area newspaper and TV.

But the published reports were wrong.

"We just wanted Todd to know we were thinking about him, that we loved him," said his sister, Dianna. "It tore us apart when his body surfaced."

The four teenagers died when a 28-foot pursuit boat slammed into their small pleasure craft. Jamie Tarber, 17, survived but suffered a crushed spleen.

Authorities are still investigating the terrible tragedy, but haven't decided to file charges against the driver of the racing boat Dr. William A. La Torre of Tampa.

The bodies of Nash and Miss Christman were recovered shortly after the collision and Weeks' corpse was found the next day.

Florida Marine Patrol officers were wary as the service pulled Kuhn's corpse from the inland waterway after it floated to the surface.

Marine Patrol spokesman Dep Stevens was blamed for releasing premature information to the press that Kuhn's body had been found the previous day.

Mom's diet may give kids cancer

Women who go on high fat diets during pregnancy may be dooming their children to develop cancer!

Michigan State University researcher Dr. Bruce Walker reported that exposure in fats before birth makes female mice more likely to get cancer as they get older.

He said indirect evidence apparent in many major studies indicates that the same thing occurs in people.

Ironing shirts is better exercise than bowling, tall men make more $ & other amazing facts

By JOE BERGER

Ketchup and pickle potentate H.J. Heinz was more than the king of condi- — he was also a pr of a boss.

In the late , even the lowliest of Heinz workers — those who stuffed pickles in jars all day — had personal lockers, their own library, free medical care and a private swimming pool. They also got free mani- once a week.

That's a real trivial bit of information. And here are more tantalizing tidbits from the Weekly World News treasury of trivia:

● Caterpillars have more than 2,000 muscles.

● If you're looking for a way to shed ugly neighbor, forget bowling. Rolling a 16-pound ball down a well-oiled alley burns up only 150 calories an hour. Even ironing your bowling shirt uses up more calories than that.

● Tennessee senator Jimmy Dewar reportedly ate more than 40,000 of the greasy grubs in his lifetime — and then he died.

● Tennis stars swallowing rights on a list of areas banning bridges. Their state has more than any other.

● When President Teddy Roosevelt couldn't sleep, he drenched a sheet of cotton in a glass of milk to convince the Americans.

● Bears are second to death at fairs.

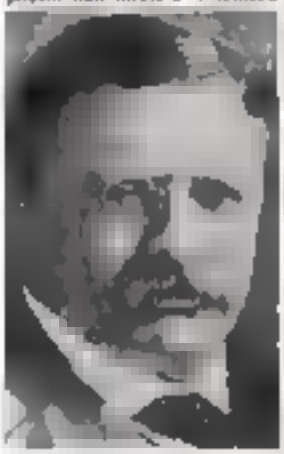
● A horse named Seabiscuit's Tip won only one race in his life — the 1953 Kentucky Derby.

● Most people never attend a high school reunion.

● Tall men usually earn more money than shorties.

● People who live only up to the seventeens have open hand in their bodies than people who live at sea level.

● Divers have bigger lips



MEN united with forces was Teddy Roosevelt's formula for beating dandruff.

BOWLING doesn't burn as many calories as ironing, as many days than they do when the weather's gloomy.

● An ostrich's knees bend backward.

● A frog is about 7 percent ham.

● In Morocco, happy dead dog people don't throw dirt — they throw rubies.

● The crowded bar do eye as its tail — and two ears in its head.

● Stephen grove teachers give better grades to rules kids.

● Women buy 80 percent of the furniture sold in this country.

● It takes 43 percent more energy to walk in high heels than it does to walk in flat shoes.

Soviets plan to explore Mars with giant hot-air balloons!

Soviet space exploration will go up, up and away to Mars in 1984 — on gigantic hot-air balloons like the one that went around the world in 80 days.

Scientists are developing two balloons that will be at least 70 feet high and hold about the same volume as the Goodyear blimp.

A 40-pound package of scientific instruments and television cameras will dangle below each balloon, along with a 30-foot-long "snake" that will collect soil samples from the Martian surface. The balloons will have to be much stronger than the hot-air balloons used on Earth if they're going to survive the harsh Martian environment.

Temperatures at night drop to 300 degrees below zero, 100 mph winds and explosive sandstorms are common and volcanoes taller three times higher than Mt. Everest.

Pilots call the balloons to be lowered to Mars from an orbiting spacecraft.

They will explore the planet's surface for about 10 days, say scientists.

Man catches AIDS after a bus crash in Africa!

An American tourist was infected with AIDS when an African bus he was riding in crashed — and blood from other injured passengers splashed down into his eyeball.

The bizarre case marks the first time someone has been infected with the deadly AIDS virus during a traffic accident, doctors say.

The unidentified 33-year-old man was contemplating plans for marriage he was visiting in isolated inland Guinea Bissau.

"The passenger received multiple lacerations," Dr. Lloyd Ihle wrote in the Journal of the American Medical Association. "At least five injured and bleeding passengers were lying on top of him. He was subdued in shock."

When the man returned to the United States, he tested positive for AIDS.

He had stood in pools while disposing blood before he left aboard the bus and used latex gloves, but not received blood transfusions and did not have intercourse, Dr. Ihle said.

Shy dolphins get ulcers

Three dolphins broke down with ulcers shortly after arriving at the National Aquarium in Baltimore, Md. — because they didn't like crowds.

Kibbs, Mimi and Aphrodite got sick because they couldn't escape the hordes of people who lined their tank to see them, the aquarium's former chief of medicine reported.

Dr. Michael K. Stoskopf said the dolphins got well almost immediately when they were sent home to Florida.

Clumsy Clancy thought he'd try his hand at remodeling, but

Do-it-yourselfer's project brings the house down!

By JOE BERGER

Clumsy Clancy Fegan set out to remodel his home — and accidentally brought the whole house crashing to the ground!

"Oh, my God. I've turned our house into a garbage heap," groaned the distraught do-it-yourselfer as he surveyed the ruins of the once-cozy home.

"I really don't know what I did wrong, but I obviously botched it somewhere."

Calamity Clancy Fegan, 32, met his Waterloo as he struggled to turn his little two-room cottage in Cardiff, Wales, into a dream home for his wife Mandy and their 2-year-old daughter Sandra.

"I was told the foundation needed shoring up, but builders charge so much for that kind of work I thought I'd do it myself," the flabbergasted dad recalled.

"I dug down to the foundation. Then realized I needed some nails and things, so I dashed off to the store.

"It couldn't have been gone more than five minutes — but when I got back there was five feet of rubble where our home used to be."

Clancy's bungling had sent two upstairs bedrooms and a bathroom crashing down into the kitchen and dining room, leaving the house an empty shell. "I guess I jostled the foundation a little too hard," said the heartsick hubby.

"And now I don't know what we're going to do. We can't live in this junk heap.

"Fortunately, we've got relatives who'll let us stay with them for awhile — if I promise not to do any work on their home."

Impatient driver stabs handicapped motorist

Handicapped motorist Keith Plank was stabbed in the stomach by a fellow motorist — because the stabber thought Plank was driving too slow!

Plank, 54, said he was driving the speed limit on a Boulder, Colo., road when a pickup truck began tailgating him.

The disabled man, who can't walk without crutches, tapped his brakes several times hoping the following pickup would back off. Finally, he braked harder and the truck was forced into another lane, Plank told police.

The other driver speeded up, got ahead of Plank and forced him to a stop. The hopping-mad driver then rushed over to Plank's car, grabbed him by the shoulder and fired, investigators said.

Investigators said Plank's wound was minor.

Earthworms take [redacted] man's lawn

A homeowner says there are so many worms wiggling around his backyard that it looks like his lawn is alive and moving.

The creepy crawlers number so many leaves at night that the man, who didn't want to be identified, can hardly sleep. "The grass moves and the worms eat every leaf that isn't raked up," he said.

But instead of trying to get rid of the worms, he has tried to make life easier for them at his home in Selkirk, Canada.

"I added a little topsoil to the lawn so the ground would not be so hard for the worms to dig holes," he said.

An expert said the worms are good for the soil.

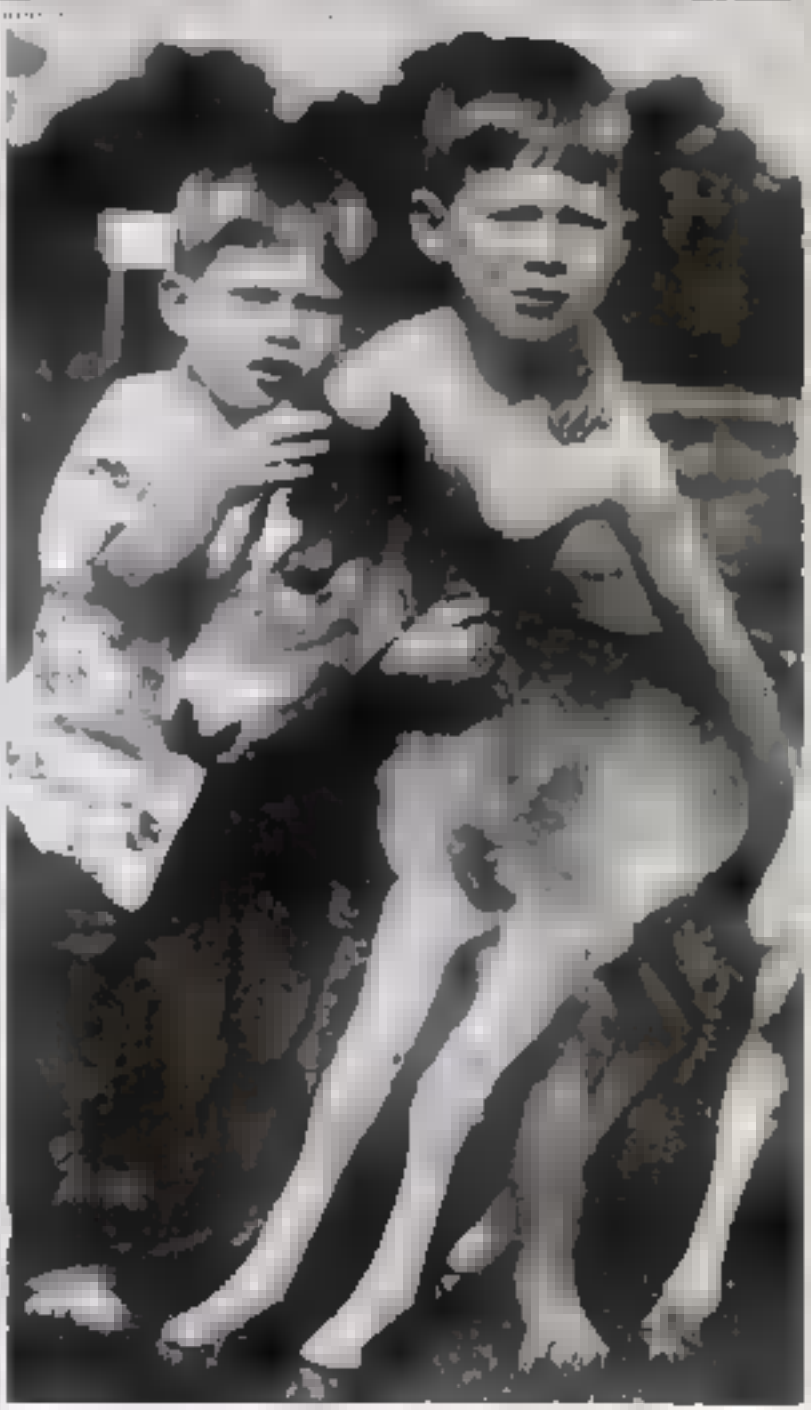
Man's toe bitten off in fight



Horsing around

A rabbity-faggot, 4-day-old colt called Lightning was having a little trouble staying on his feet, so his pals Dean and Aaron Hess crowned in to lend a helping hand as their keen horse

. . . then he tries to stick it back on with DUCT TAPE!

By TIM HEADY

A man whose toe was bitten off during an argument over a girl tried to reattach it with duct tape!

The makeshift medical procedure didn't work. And by the time Jamie Gaydos got himself to a hospital 24 hours later the toe was so shrivelled and lifeless that doctors didn't even attempt to reattach it.

"I guess I should have gone to a doctor straight away," Gaydos, 27, told reporters in Budapest, Hungary. "But I didn't really think all that much about it. It was only a little bleeding."

Figuring it didn't have any medical value, Gaydos stuck the toe in a plastic bag and wrapped it with duct tape.

"I then realized that the toe wasn't going to heal and I finally went to the hospital."

The strange drama allegedly began when Gaydos and a friend, Laszlo Szepi, came to blows while arguing over a girl.

Szepi, 20, reportedly pulled the shoe off Gaydos' right foot and bit off his middle toe. He denies the allegation in the proceedings. "I am not one in this right mind would eat [illegible] nothing like it for dessert."

Nevertheless, police have charged Szepi with inflicting a permanent physical handicap.

A comfy rear end means you'll increase productivity at work

The bottom line for increased productivity at work is a rested rear end, says an amazing new corporate study.

Comfortable and supportive seats are crucial to the U.S., where 76 percent to 80 percent of workers have sit-down jobs.

"If people are comfortable and have the support they need they will tend to sit longer and work longer," said Neil Goldberg, a researcher for office furniture maker Herman Miller Inc. of Holland, Mich.

The number of workers calling in sick because of back pains has increased 40 percent since 1970, said the company.

When sitting, 70 percent of a person's total body weight is supported on four square inches of the buttocks. Sitting on a hard, flat surface can put pressure of 85 to 100 pounds a square inch on the buttocks, which can restrict blood flow, according to the company.

Edgar Prichard — In the short 6 months I've been an SMC wholesaler I've built up a total account of $47,000.00.

Steve Kohler — I was a professional baseball player with the White Sox and with the Cubs. This is my first business venture. I'm starting part time only but have taken in as much as $900 a week.

Thomas C. Myers — I make tremendous profits with SMC products. On one $5000.00 order I made $8500.00 profit.

Mrs. Cynthia Cox — I made my first SMC purchase. I have only been here for 3 years and I've taken in $240,000.00 this year.

Ernest Smith — My sales have reached up to $1500 a day and my profits up to $4000 a day — mostly through the mail.

Flora Sherwood — I use the SMC mail credit program like crazy. I've run up over $40,000.00 on SMC now (gasp).

Shoplifter is banned from dress stores

Shirley Angered Felicity Wrapples was banned from every clothing store in the country — after cops learned she'd shoplifted more than $25,000 worth of fancy dresses.

Jailed Felicity, 20, pleaded guilty to four counts of theft after lawyers found her Reading, England, home chock-full of clothes swiped from ritzy shops.

A whopping 347 other theft charges were left pending.

As a condition of bail while she's awaiting sentencing, Felicity was ordered to stay out of all clothing stores in Britain unless she's accompanied by another shopper.

FLAB-U-LOUS!

SIZE 5 a big hit — for Jiggling Jill Hunter proves her stuff — at 322 pounds of it — as the delight of millions of TV viewers all across Europe!

JILL "Fou Fou" Hunter says she'll be Hollywood's next sex goddess and has rejected hundreds of letters and cablegrams pro-posals from love-struck movie moguls.

World's BIGGEST sex symbol weighs ■ whopping 322 lbs.!

By JOE BERGER

Jiggling Jill "Fou Fou" Hunter tips around 322 pounds of shivering, quivering flab on a 4-foot, 10-inch frame. But the tubby TV star wouldn't dream of dieting — because her blubbery bod drives men wild!

I get stacks of mail every day from men all over Europe who think I'm the most gorgeous thing they've ever seen," Ballerina Fou Fou, 34, told reporters in London, England.

"And a lot of those letters say they're begging me to marry them. Why, one rich man in Paris offered me a million francs [$200,000] cash if I'd only become his wife!"

The sensational native of Paris has starred in movies in the European TV scene, raked in a fortune in Paris night clubs and played leading roles across the world in between.

She's become a real-life version of the famous cartoon character Olive Oyl — with a few extra pounds to spare.

But unlike the other lady known as Wonderful to the world, Fou Fou insists she's happy with her shape.

In fact, she says, she's been deliberately putting on weight since she was a teenager.

"I've been told by many people that I'm too fat," she said. "I used to have to sit for hours around in make them laugh me slim. They made me ashamed of being fat.

"But now I've decided that I'm going to be myself. I'm going to be fat and proud of it. I'm going to be the most voluptuous woman in the world.

"I'm going to be Hollywood's next sex goddess, the new Marilyn Monroe," runs the wide-bodied belle.

"The world is ready for a leading lady with a look like mine.

"I've always said that I wouldn't even go out anywhere without having one drink to fortify myself first.

Sometimes they must be calling me the most voluptuous woman who ever lived."

Fou Fou's way of thinking. The adulation she enjoys now is just the beginning.

"I'm going to be Hollywood's next sex goddess, the new Marilyn Monroe," runs the wide-bodied belle.

"The world is ready for a leading lady with a look like mine.

"I've always said that I wouldn't even go out anywhere without having one drink to fortify myself first.

Sometimes they must be calling me the most voluptuous woman who ever lived."

SPEED BOAT SHOCKER!

Marcia Greenfield lived for 30 minutes on the air trapped in the cabin of her overturned powerboat before blacking out and slipping beneath the surface of the water.

Tragically, the 34-year-old Queens, N.Y., woman couldn't hold on long enough for the Coast Guard rescue boat to arrive. Miss Greenfield was skin-encrusted body weighs he was handled.

Nevertheless, because she was out of air and slipped into the water. The 25-foot boat flipped

Hero 4-year-old dies saving baby brother from fire

A fearless 4-year-old boy saved his baby brother's life in a raging trailer fire — but died doing it

Courageous tot Duncan Henry grabbed his 7-week-old brother Darrin from a crib and carried him to another bedroom to escape the flames and smoke.

With the baby cradled in his arms, the heroic youngster climbed under a bed and shielded the infant with his body.

"That's where we found them [illegible] room where the fire was out," said Lincoln Nbs. Fire Chief Billy Permenter. "The baby was barely alive but little Duncan had died saving him.

"It breaks me up every time I think of what that little boy did," said the chief. "We couldn't ask more for him [illegible] he certainly deserved it."

Can you help a girl who can't say no?

Ask the Countess

Countess Angelina Galbiati advises Weekly World News readers personal advice based on your horoscope. For answers to brief questions about your future, include your date of birth (address letters to Countess Angelina Galbiati, Weekly World News, 600 S. East Coast Ave., Lantana, Fla. 33462).

Dear Countess: I don't want to get in the Guinness book, but I think I may hold a world record — I'm pregnant and any one of eight different men could be the father of my baby.

I've got an overseas lt. major. Basically I'm just a nice girl who happens to enjoy sex. Unfortunately, I'm also forgetful about The Pill to conceived and that's why I'm in the predicament I'm in today.

Trouble is, I work as a secretary and don't have enough money to raise a kid, so I need some help from the father, whoever he is. My birthday is on Nov. 2, 1978, if that's any help.

I don't know the birthdays of any of my lovers, but I do recall that one was Hispanic, one black and the rest white. I also slept with a Japanese gentleman, but for personal reasons I don't think he was the father.

I really would like to get this thing settled, then I can maybe straighten up and just have one boyfriend or at the most two or three.

Please help me, Countess. There is not a minute to lose. If you know what I mean. — Lady In Waiting, Ohio

Dear Lady in Waiting: I must keep telling myself I'm your astrologer, not your judge. As an astrologer I can tell you that the father of your child has left the country and will never return.

I can tell you that you will deliver a healthy Capricorn baby this September. Enjoy and love your child, because he will be a wonderful substitute for all those men in your life.

Dear Countess Galbiati: I had a friend who said he had once found a cave and that there was treasure in it. He even gave me a map showing the location, and he was planning to search for it together. Unfortunately, before we could do it, he became very ill and passed away.

The map shows a hidden cave high up on a mountain in New Mexico that leads to a steep tunnel and down into a cave deep inside the mountain. My friend said he saw two big wood boxes filled with gold and silver bars and coins and another box full of precious. He figured it was all worth at least $5 million.

If I go in search for it, I'll have to have strong men with the right tools and equipment, and I really don't have the money to do that.

Can you tell me if the cave does in fact exist, and if so do you advise me to look for it?

We do need a new house very much, but I am 77 years old and not very well myself.

Also, my husband plays the lottery with me here. Please tell me what to do my future. Birth date 9/8/15. — H.H. in Tucson, Ariz.

Dear H.H.: Without your friend's date of birth I can not able to study his chart for any information of his find. And even though you may have the map, your chart does not indicate this type of discovery in your life. Consequently, I'm afraid you'll have to forget your dreams of finding a hidden fortune.

However you will be making by late summer when financial gains from an anticipated source double your bank account.

Dear Countess Galbiati: In July of 1988 I met someone, fell in love and was married. Now we are divorcing. It is my idea, and she says that after the divorce is final we should start all over by dating each other.

I don't want to see her, and I don't want the divorce. I am really confused about the whole sorry situation.

Where are we headed? What do you suggest that I do? What do you see in my future? Birth date 7/16/61. — Heartbroken in Indiana

Dear Heartbroken: I do agree with you and my advice to you is not going the time but rather to proceed as you are.

Chances are good that marrying your courtship over will have the happy result of bringing your lady back to you. I really do see happiness ahead for you both.

GIANT HOROSCOPE

By Countess Sophia Sabah

ARIES

Mar. 21-Apr. 19

You would be wise to tackle an old problem after the middle of this month. Give careful consideration to your approach and you may be surprised at the results.

Now is also the time to take independent action to deal/cope with your work and other money matters.

Single Aries may expect some pleasure in the romance department especially if their partner's rising sign is Capricorn — give and take should help solve problems and re-establish balance.

TAURUS

Apr. 20-May 20

This week holds the promise of entertainment and celebrations with surroundings for those who have recently started or have established a new relationship, possibly with a change of roommate.

During this time, problems with parents, siblings and other close relatives could arise. Avoid controversial subjects and keep on happy terms ahead to the post until discussion passes.

You may be very strong-willed at work this week.

GEMINI

May 21-June 20

Someone you have dearly but love acting cool and distant, especially hard to handle for persons born under Gemini, as love really does make your world go around.

Show your devotion by some thoughtful gestures and small but-filled gifts.

Don't let your love life dominate your energy.

There may be a challenge in your work situation, and you should be aware of the unfriendly actions of a co-worker.

CANCER

June 21-July 22

You are, fortunate, Cancer, as this may be your best summer ever.

Make the most of it! Get off to a good start by making long-range plans concerning land, home and shared projects with the ones you love.

Love and flirtations figure prominently in your plans and should be successful.

Creative prospects are also excellent. Here is the time to pursue that dream, to express inner brightly on the horizon.

LEO

July 23-Aug. 22

You have been caught up in a flurry of activities that have put a strain on your physical health. Not to worry — a short vacation will fix you right up with someone you love could do wonders.

Single, divorced or widowed Leos may come in contact with a fascinating member of the opposite sex. After a few early conflicts in the relationship are overcome, and a brief courtship, wedding bells could ring.

Married Leos find their romance at home will blossom.

VIRGO

Aug. 23-Sept. 22

Not everyone can live up to your high standards. You'll have to accept others' views and desires to gain harmony with a loved one.

To get your romance running smoothly again, try an intimate dinner for two. Candlelight and a romantic setting may smooth ruffled feathers.

A promise of easy money will come to you through the mail. It may seem on the up and up, but investigate thoroughly before signing on the dotted line.

LIBRA

Sept. 23-Oct. 22

Try to curb your tendency to go from one intimate friendship to the next. You have been giving too much emphasis on popularity.

Red is your color, and a few pieces added to your wardrobe could brighten up your life.

Pay close attention to your personal appearance — jogging several times a week will help you shed those extra pounds gained while enjoying yourself at the table.

A Capricorn or Leo plays a role in your romantic life.

SCORPIO

Oct. 23-Nov. 21

You've earned the right to do something nice for yourself. Make arrangements for whatever kind of celebration you want and enjoy.

Those unexplained aches you've been having about your career could be someone "trying to tell you something." Be discreet, but do some investigating — especially watch Aries!

Married Scorpios should reexamine that they have any weakness, jealousy, that must be kept under control, or keep your word.

SAGITTARIUS

Nov. 22-Dec. 21

You are feeling depressed because the long-term project you've been working on seems to have come to a screeching halt. The problem is temporary, however, and after the middle of the month, you should be able to get started again.

Old friends will visit unexpectedly, and provide a pleasant interlude. Continue happy times ahead in the year.

Children cause a few sleepless nights, but a good talking to them should clear the air.

CAPRICORN

Dec. 22-Jan. 19

The sun's positive spotlight family harmony for married persons under this sign. A relaxed atmosphere should ease old tensions, so perhaps a quiet celebration at get-away weekend is in order.

That business venture you have been nurturing begins to jell. You have researched the project thoroughly and can speed things along by following your instincts in decision making.

Reevaluate all those old friendships that have become a drag.

If your birthday is this week . . .

Congratulations, you're about to embark on a fantastic year. Those on the list will be famous. If you have a job, you'll suddenly reap a bonus for your hard work and loyalty.

Homemakers will benefit from a money-making idea gotten during one of those few idle moments.

Beware of your health. Overeating and lack of regular exercise will do you in. So get tough with yourself at once and keep fit.

Travel on water is a no-no at your end. A real bore and even exhausting.

Romance will be yours with a warm and secure relationship.

AQUARIUS

Jan. 20-Feb. 18

Worry over money matters is affecting your health, as well as your love life.

Perhaps now is the time to get help with budgeting from a credit counselor.

For single Aquarians, you are ready for a new start — a break with your past may be in your future.

One note of warning, however, don't burn too many bridges, as you may need to return.

Many business may tend to close now.

PISCES

Feb. 19-Mar. 20

You are creative, original, independent and can be considered domineering. These traits will help you realize your dreams, so don't be discouraged by unkind remarks from co-workers.

You'll have success dealing with the public (especially the opposite sex), provided you stay with the basic issues.

A telephone call from a distant relative will be disturbing at the time, but later you'll be able to see the funny side and have a laugh.

Gals are twice as li[illegible] as men to file for divorce

Women are twice as likely to file for divorce as men, according to a recent report.

The word comes from the National Center for Health Statistics in Washington, D.C. In 1986, the latest year for which figures are available, wives filed 61.8 percent of the divorce petitions compared to 38.8 percent for husbands.

The remainder of the divorces, 0.6 percent, were filed jointly. Other eye-opening divorce facts included in the agency's report:

- A whopping 1,100,000 couples divorced in 1986.
- A third of the divorces occur early in the marriage, between the first and fourth years.
- Marriages that end in divorce last an average of 8.6 years.

Mummy robs jewelry store!

A jewelry store was robbed and its manager locked up in the back room — by a mummy!

According to police in Wichita, Kans., an unidentified woman called the store and long before the robbery.

"She told her husband, who had been turned in a water heater explosion, would be in later to sell some gold," Captain David Pate of the Wichita Police Department said.

About an hour later, a man appeared at the Kansas Numismatics store with his head and neck wrapped in gauze.

"I guess he looked like a mummy," Capt. Pate said. "He was also wearing sunglasses."

The mummy put his briefcase on the counter, pulled out a revolver and ordered the store manager to give him money. He then made his escape with gold, silver and cash.

Sickos try to make $$ off dying children

Heartbroken parents of dying children are getting phone calls from strangers trying to make a buck by selling them package funeral services.

One angry mother who answered the phone said:

She found out later that other grieving parents in San Antonio, Tex., were receiving similar calls.

Funeral home directors in San Antonio were appalled upon hearing about the suspicious phone calls.

Fat passengers cause plane crash

A commuter plane crashed because too many fat passengers were crammed into the back section, said stunned investigators in Stockholm, Sweden.

All 16 people on board were killed, including several well-known Swedish politicians, when the twin-engined plane slammed into a runway in Copenhagen and burst into flames while trying to land.

"The center of gravity was too far back in the plane," said the chief investigator.

"The aircraft became tail heavy and difficult to control."

Kidney transplant [redacted] man's life — but gives him cancer, suit says

The kidney transplant that saved a dying man's life also gave him cancer, a lawsuit claims.

"It doesn't seem fair," Jim Stinson, 47, told newsmen in Haywards Heath, England. "I went through hell with my kidneys. I was told that a transplant would save my life.

"Now I find out that I've got cancer.

"I'm sure I got it from the donor kidney. I'm sure I'm still going to die.

"It's just going to be more painful and take longer."

Stinson has filed a shocking lawsuit against a pair of medical authorities who arranged for the transplant when his own kidneys failed in 1988.

The suit alleges that the operation didn't bother to wait the donor for communicable diseases until three days after the operation, when an autopsy revealed that he had advanced cancer.

Stinson was later diagnosed as having cancer himself.

And while he has undergone chemotherapy and radiation treatments there is no guarantee that the disease is in check.

The local and regional medical authorities named in the suit have not been willing to discuss the case.

Now Stinson wants to see whether he'll live or die.

"I'm not the kind of person who would sue over just anything," said Stinson.

"But I really do think that somebody could have checked to make sure the kidney I got wasn't riddled with cancer."

Motorists scoop loose cash off road

It was like a dream-come-true for motorists on a rain-soaked freeway when high-powered bills suddenly fell out of the back of an armored truck, spilling thousands of dollars of cash across the road.

Drivers on the 60 Pasadena Freeway in highway slowdown as their brakes, leaped out of their autos and began chasing down the loot.

Some grabbed up handfuls of bills while others managed to stuff up bags chock full of loot and then sped off in their cars.

"This is an education in greed in people," sighed Policeman Roberto Campos.

Police said the scramble for money called cash kept traffic to a halt for half a mile. Officers managed to recover $8,000 in loose bills and say they have thrown hundreds of motorists who took cash

Towering trees, huge onions & 3-eyed rats at Russian nuke site!

Trees and plants growing around the Chernobyl nuclear power plant in the Soviet Union have doubled and in some cases tripled in size since the reactor blew up in 1986, spewing radiation and fallout for miles!

"Some plants are exhibiting gigantism," said a report in the newspaper Leningrad Komsomolets, which is published in Moscow. "Pine trees that normally reach heights of 40 to 80 feet have doubled in size. Another plants, shrubs and vegetables are also gigantic. Onions growing in the area are averaging 35 pounds."

The newspaper did not address rumors that dog-sized rats are proliferating in the area. It did say that "a few varieties of rodents are showing genetic deviations.

"The most striking physical abnormality has been the appearance of a third, non-functioning eye in the middle of some rodents' heads," the newspaper said.

Soviet scientists have been extremely tight-lipped about the effects of radiation on plants and animals in the Chernobyl area.

Biologist Alexei A. Ivanov issued what is thought to have been the most candid assessment yet when he told Leningrad Komsomolets: "Chernobyl has become a living laboratory since the accident in 1986.

"Currently we are seeing genetic abnormalities caused by exposure to massive radiation. But I think we will see even greater mutations in months and years to come.

"We might even see the development of life forms unlike anything seen on Earth before."

GIANT onion, which grew near the Chernobyl nuclear plant, is shown at a scientific meeting by a Russian official.

Gun-slingin' kid

A 13-year-old boy was arrested with a fully loaded pistol in his possession — and came back to the New York City police station later to ask for his gun back!

Shocked Brooklyn cops said the boy was charged with criminal possession of a weapon.

Boy puts van in gear — and runs over mom

A young mom desperately tried to stop her runaway van after her little boy set it in motion — and got sucked down by the van!

Debbie Steele, 30, of Calgary, Canada, saw her 2-year-old son Trevor unbuckle his seat belt, jump into the driver's seat and knock the transmission out of park.

She was outside the van at a service station when the mishap occurred, but the brave mom thought she could stop the van anyway.

"She was trying to stop her van from rolling down the hill," said Lydia Dudley, a friend who witnessed the accident.

"She tripped and the van ran over her legs, up the front of her, and over her head."

Mrs. Steele was rushed to a hospital with head and internal injuries.

It's 'Taps' for bug killer TV ad

The makers of Black Flag insect spray have bowed to pressure from critics and agreed to stop playing Taps for bugs on their commercials!

Spokesman Carol Emerling said that the bugle call, which is properly played at military funerals, will be deleted from the firm's TV ads because viewers were upset by it.

Korean War veteran Bill Tangle, who had complained about the commercial after seeing it at his home in Byrn Mawr, Pa., said: "Taps is a symbol. It represents the finality of someone's unredible sacrifice.

"To trivialize it by playing it after blasting away a bunch of bugs is terrible."

200 ghosts haunt world's spookiest castle!

The most haunted castle in the world is in East Germany, where over 200 spooks haunt the ruins of a 13th-century fortress near Erfurt.

The first reported sighting of a ghost was in 1712, and the latest was in May of this year, when a headless soldier in chain armor was seen by a tourist group of Japanese tourists.

According to castle custodian Werner Frank, 62, the earliest ghostly goings-on were reported in August 1712 by the Baron Wolfgang von Stocke, whose ancestors built the castle in 1288.

"Stocke and his wife were picnicking near the ruined fortress with his mother and her second husband," custodian Frank said.

"Suddenly the baron's mother screamed and pointed to the battlements above the main tower. The rest of the party looked up and saw a boy of about 13 or 14 hanging from a wooden beam with a rope around his neck.

"According to the baron, the boy kicked and grasped for several minutes before his body was still. Then he vanished."

The baron later investigated and found that a boy named Hans had been hanged by one of the noblemen's ancestors in 1533 — because he had disgraced the tail of one of the castle watchdogs."

A British psychic who visited the castle in 1978 said she felt the presence of at least 200 ghosts, all of whom had died in violent circumstances.

In 1982 a tourist from Chicago, who was tracing her family's roots in Germany, said he saw the ghost of a "beautiful young girl with long yellow hair" wearing a flowing white dress and carrying a bouquet on the steps leading to the castle tower.

"There is a legend that says the daughter of a knight who lived in the castle was forced to marry a man 40 years her senior," Frank said.

"Rather than submit to his sexual advances, she stabbed herself on the castle steps. That was said to have happened in 1414."

By far the most horrific ghost seen at Erfurt castle is that of a soldier in 18th-century armor who walks the crumbling battlements trying to pull an arrow out of his head. "He was seen by at least 30 people in May of this year," Frank said.

"He pleaded with the visitors to pull the arrow out. He was seen for several minutes before he vanished.

"Again the castle records indicate that a soldier lived for five years with an arrowhead in his skull. The medieval records say people came from all over Germany to talk to him, although he lived in constant agony."

The soldier died in 1487, "blessing the name of the Holy daughter's killer the prom king

. . . says this outraged mother!

Heartbroken Sharon Hunter is outraged that the teenage boy who killed her daughter with his car is being treated like a hero by his friends — and was even elected prom king.

By JACK ALEXANDER

"I've been a basket case since I heard he was king of the ball," she said. "I went into total shock. I'm still mad. It was a cruel thing to do . . . a real slap in the face."

Her only daughter, Amber, 18, was killed instantly a year ago when a speeding Mazda 323 driven by Eric Norstrom slammed into a group of partying students on a lonely road in Boynton Beach, Fla.

Though convicted of vehicular homicide, reckless driving and culpable negligence, Norstrom, now 17, was allowed to finish his senior year and graduate before sentencing.

"He took my daughter's life at his discretion," said Mrs. Hunter. "He's a convicted felon. If it was anyone else, they'd be behind bars right now."

The grief-stricken mother wasn't in the crowd the night Norstrom graduated.

"I heard people stood up and cheered for him," she said. "I couldn't have handled that. My daughter didn't get a chance to graduate."

Mrs. Hunter said a teacher at the school aired a memorial service for her daughter, but allowed classmates to circulate a petition for Norstrom.

"Who is the victim here, for crying out loud? My daughter is dead. She did nothing him," she said. "He has never apologized to me for what he did. I don't know if he's sorry or not."

Mrs. Hunter doesn't want Norstrom sentenced to a man's prison, "but he should be locked up for at least 10 months in a lesser facility.

"He should pay something for what he did," she said.

vindictive woman, but most of the publicity since the tragedy has been 'pro Eric.'"

The grieving mom said the last year has been extremely stressful. "My daughter was to be the bridesmaid at my wedding, but that was called off after her death.

"I wasn't in any condition to get married. I was treated by a psychiatrist after I considered suicide. I underwent bereavement counseling.

"I'm O.K. now, but it's painful when people treat that boy like he did nothing wrong.

"It hurts. It really, really hurts," she said. "What's going on here? Do people have to see my daughter lying dead on the road?"
